County Engineer Found Dead At Pearlington

The fully clothed body of Claude F. Hancock, County Engineer, was discovered on Monday afternoon in the office of the Hancock County Engineer's office in Pearlington.

Hancock, who was in his 73rd year at the time of his death, had been County Engineer since the death of J. R. Rollins, last year. Hancock was working when he was struck by a fatal heart attack.

A native of Michigan, he has made his home in Pearlington since 1932. Apparently in good health Saturday, Hancock had driven his car and returned to his home.

A Mr. Williams, neighbor of the dead man called at the Hancock residence Sunday, but receiving no response to his knocking at the door, he and several others in the vicinity assumed Mr. Hancock had gone to New Orleans for the day.

On Monday morning, Williams again tried to contact Hancock at his home, and failed to receive an answer to his knocking at the door.

Returning in mid-afternoon, Williams again went to see Hancock. Failure to receive any response at this time, Williams queried others in the vicinity and it was learned that Hancock had been seen since Saturday evening.

Coming around the curve of the Old Spanish Trail near the corner of Washington St., Carver lost control of his car and careened into a vacant house on the east side of the trail.

The truck, which Carver was driving, plunged into the side of the house, going completely through the exterior wall into a bathroom and taking down a portion of an inside wall separating the bath and another room of the house.

The vehicle rammed into the bath tub and struck a third wall which divided the bathroom from the kitchen, completely demolishing a cabinet built into the wall of the kitchen.

Carver was taken to Kings Daughters Hospital.

The lad, victim of an unavoidable automobile accident died en route to King's Daughters Hospital, about 5:30 Thursday, Nov. 8, where he was being rushed by Fahey's Ambulance after he was struck by an appliance truck near the Waveland Beach front near the home of his parents.

Sheriff's Deputy, Carl Garcia who investigated the accident reported the two Travira brothers, Michael, 9, and his brother, Forrest, 11, were allegedly on the seawall. An appliance truck owned by Demoran's Radio and Electric Appliance Co., Bay St. Louis, and driven by Bernard Col was headed south on the beach. The driver swerved the truck to avoid jitting a boy who jumped from the ledge of the seawall and apparently attempted to cross the roadway.

This boy was Forrest. In swerving to avoid hitting the child, Col jammed his truck into a mail box, and sideswiped a telephone pole. The other child, whom the driver did not see was in the path of the truck as it swerved and was struck.

He was rushed immediately by ambulance to the local hospital but died enroute.

Robert Sylvester, of Waveland, was a passenger in the truck with Col at the time of the fatal accident. Henry Kothmann and Carl Gustaffau, Waveland residents, witnessed the accident.

Recovering From Rattlesnake Bite

Bitten by a six foot "hot" rattlesnake Saturday, Luke (Sonny) Saucier, Jr., is recovering in a hospital after being bitten on the critical list for 48 hours.

Saucier, 22 year old son of Mrs. Gertrude Saucier of this city was demonstrating the art of milking rattlesnakes at his own show in Long Beach, California, when pierced by the venomous bite of a six foot "hot" rattler.

In the idiom of snake trainers a hot snake is one new in captivity, who has not been previously milked. The venom from such a snake is more potent than that from snakes periodically milked.

A new shipment of "hot" rattlers had been received by Saucier, and he was exhibiting them for the first time. The reptile sank its deadly fangs into the right hand of the man as he was beginning the process of milking.

Professional snake handlers prepare for such emergencies, and a doctor is on hand at all exhibits. Saucier received immediate first aid then was rushed to a hospital where serum was administered.

For forty-eight hours he remained on the critical list. Monday night he was able to speak to his mother via long distance to assure her that danger had passed, although he was still suffering intense pain. He said the pain for the first 48 hours was excruciating.

Possibly the reason most professional snake handlers recover from snake bites where many non-professionals die from the same type of bite is due to the fact that fear creates a condition of shock in the non-professional which is largely responsible for death. The professional has learned to withstand such fear, thereby eliminating grave danger of shocked condition.

Young Saucier has been professionally handling snakes and other types of reptiles for several years. In the early spring this year he went to California where he was connected for a number of months with the California Alligator Farm. He left business recently to open a snake exhibit of his own.

In an interview with Saucier during the late summer when he came south on an alligator hunt, this reporter asked if he had ever been bitten by snakes. He said he had on numerous occasions, and by several species including the cotton mouthed moccasin and the Texas diamond back rattler.

A Texas diamond back rattler was the snake whose potent poison almost cost young Saucier his life last Saturday afternoon.

planting and the control of insects and diseases. Each demonstration will have an experienced forester in charge with suitable equipment to show the practical method of carrying out these practices. The forester will also explain the value of these methods to the timber grower. Those attending will be guided to the demonstrations in small groups so they can take an active part in the discussions and ask any questions of the foresters. Following the guided tour of the demonstrations, a hot luncheon of Brunswick Stew with all the trimmings will be served by the Masonite Corporation to those present.

Following lunch, there will be a short speaking program and those in this area who have qualified for tree farm emblems will be awarded emblems. Mr. McInvalle, Chairman of the Committee, said the route to the tree farm will be plainly marked. Just south of Laurel on Highway 15, there is a turnoff to the east of a paved road at Triangle Drive. After turning east on this road, those attending the demonstration will be directed to take the 2nd gravel road which leads left along Line Road which leads directly to the Leggett Road.

Dr. Tommy Leggett, a Laurel dentist, has made some outstanding improvements on this land and the results that he has realized in the past few years are eye openers. It is for this reason that this site was selected as an ideal spot for a tree farm demonstration. Everyone in Southeast Mississippi who is interested in tree farming or who has idle land which could be put into production is urged to attend this demonstration on Tuesday, November 27th.

In NEW YORK—People going places are going Pontiac!

Pontiac Has It— in the Surprise Package of '57

Like surprises? You've got one coming in Pontiac for '57! It's completely new... from power to personality... so advanced it's handed the industry a whole fresh set of styling and engineering ideas!

Here's where you'll find all the big-time changes in looks, ride, handling, performance. There's an exciting new expression of vigor, alertness and luxury in styling. There's a new ease and confidence at the wheel as you pilot the greatest V-8 ever developed—a power plant that tops even last year's Strato-Streak which set 50 world records and bested all eight in miles per gallon!

And to prove it all, every feature of this great newcomer has been refined and perfected in the world's most exhaustive road test—Pontiac's grueling 100,000-Mile Marathon Run! No wonder they're calling Pontiac the Surprise Package of the Year! Come in and drive it. You'll know in a single mile that it's America's No. 1 Road Car!

OVER 6 DOZEN "FIRSTS" INCLUDING...

- Star Flight Body Design—a Pontiac Exclusive—longer and lower than ever before—'57's most distinctive styling.
- Now Interior Styling—the "Off-the-Shoulder" Look—a fashion "first" for '57—perfectly color-matched with the exterior.
- Now Strato-Streak V-8 Engine—270 h.p. in Star Chief and Super Chief, 252 h.p. in the Chieftain when teamed with Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic, an extra-cost option.
- Cloud-Soft Level-Line Ride—the ride sensation of the year—a new suspension system based on a big, road-hugging 124- or 122-inch wheelbase.
- Three Popular-Priced Series—Star Chief • Super Chief • Chieftain
